

Fuel purchasing programs

Whether you wish to pay up-front, want to have capped monthly budget payments, or decide to pay monthly but go with the flow on price, we have the purchasing program for you.

Fixed price prepaid

Pay a fixed price for a set number of gallons

The price will never go up or down, no matter what the market price does. We provide you with your delivery history so you can determine how many gallons you would like to purchase for the coming year.

Fixed price budget

Set the price but spread the cost over several months

This program gives you the ability to fix your price and spread out the payments rather than pay for it all at once. The price will never go up or down no matter what the market price does. Set the price for a fixed number of gallons but pay for them in monthly installments. If you start the program after July the number of monthly payments will be decreased, resulting in a slightly higher budget.

Flex price prepaid with downside insurance

Pay a set price for a fixed number of gallons but benefit from any downturn in the market price

The difference between this program and the Fixed Price Prepaid is that it includes downside insurance. This is beneficial for those customers who believe prices may fall and who don't want to be left holding more expensive fuel. If the market price on the day you receive a delivery is below the set price you paid, your account will be invoiced the market price and the difference will result in a credit on your account.

Flex price budget with downside insurance

Set the price, spread your fuel costs over the course of the year, and benefit from any downturn in the market price

We calculate a budget payment based on a set price for a fixed number of gallons that you have chosen to purchase. The budget is calculated by multiplying the number of gallons you choose to purchase by the set price per gallon plus the additional per-gallon cost of the downside insurance.

The total is then divided by 10 to give you your 10 equal monthly payments.

The budget payments start in July and end in April. If you start the program after July the number of monthly payments will be decreased, resulting in a slightly higher budget.

This program has the same advantages as the Flex Price Prepaid but can be budgeted. This is beneficial for those customers who believe prices may fall and who don't want to be left holding more expensive fuel, but who also want to spread their payments out over the year. If the market price on the day you receive a delivery is below the set price you paid, your account will be invoiced the market price and the difference will result in a credit on your account.

Market price budget

Spread your fuel costs over the year

This program provides no price protection from rising prices. However, 80% of our annual fuel consumption occurs in the four or five winter months. With the market price budget program we help you to spread your fuel costs over the year. This provides you with more predictable monthly payments throughout the year and avoids high fuel bills in the winter. The program starts in July and ends in June.

We look at your delivery history to determine how many gallons should be used to calculate your budget for the coming year. We multiply the gallons to be budgeted by an average estimated price. We then spread that total cost over 12 equal payments to create your monthly budget payment. If you start the program after July the number of monthly payments will be decreased, resulting in a slightly higher budget. The price per gallon charged to your account will be the market price on the day of delivery. Your account will be reviewed twice during the year and your monthly budget payment will be adjusted up or down according to the actual number of gallons used and the actual market pricing.